*¹⁴th CRESSE Conference on
Advances in the Analysis of Competition Policy and Regulation
July 5th - July 7th 2019

in Rhodes, Greece

"I've been looking for a training course in the format of CRESSE Summer School for a long time. There is no parallel of CRESSE in any part of the world. Nothing so comprehensive. Nothing with that team of the best experts in the economics of Competition Policy and Network Regulation. Thanks a lot."

César Mattos
FA Consultoria, Brazil

"I really enjoyed CRESSE. It was such a privilege to be there and I learned a ton. I like how CRESSE Summer School provides a crash course on essentially all of the main strands of competition policy. The Conference was an awesome perk! There were so many high-calibre speakers and highly topical sessions. It was great to attend and to network with some of the speakers over lunch/dinners. I found the whole experience to be immensely rewarding. I will be a big champion of CRESSE!! I think that some of the Competition Bureau lawyers would also benefit from this as they often have to work closely with economists and interpret economic theories and evidence. I liked how the Advanced Short Courses provided an option to go more "in depth" or "technical" on a particular topic like quantitative techniques. Given the heterogeneity of our group it made sense to make these "optional" – our group from the Competition Bureau certainly took advantage of them!"

Matthew Chiasson
Competition Bureau Canada

"Dear Professor Katsoulacos, It was great meeting you at the CRESSE Summer School. I enjoyed very much your lecture on the abuse of dominance. The CRESSE conference that you organized was amazing. I was exposed to so many important issues in competition and regulation. All the keynote talks and plenary discussions were very inspiring. I want to thank you for your hospitality and your gracefulness, especially during a difficult time for Greece."

Limin Fang
Department of Economics
University of Toronto

"...A must-attend competition economics course for an academic rich and intellectually stimulating two-weeks' experience in a beautiful location. It is also an excellent forum for practitioners to revise, and challenge the academic literature on competition economics."

Rajeev Hasnah

The "Competition and Regulation European Summer School and Conference" (CRESSE) is an international network of scholars and practitioners with a research or professional interest in Competition Policy and Network Industry Regulation. It was established in 2005 and is organised in the first two weeks of July every year. The 14th Annual Summer School and Conference (CRESSE 2019) will take place from 29th June to 11th July 2019, in AMATHUS BEACH HOTEL (<https://www.amathusrhodes.com/>) in Rhodes island (information about special rates for CRESSE participants and alternative hotels for accommodation will be available on the official website www.cresse.info).

What is the aim of the Summer School?

The aim of the CRESSE Summer School is to familiarise participants with the new economic literature, the recent legal developments and with the methods that are used to assess business practices in the context of Competition Law. Also to establish a clear link between the new theories and the day to day work of practitioners, enabling participants to face and answer difficult questions about the practical matters they come across in their work in an economically and legally informed manner.

Who does it target?

The Summer School is designed for professionals working in the wider areas of Competition Policy and Network Industry Regulation, in:

- Competition Authorities and in Regulatory Bodies
- Economic or Law Consultancies
- Private and Public firms and organizations affected by interference in the form of sectoral regulation or antitrust and merger policies
- Ministries or International Organizations
- Postgraduate (and Doctoral) students specialising in Competition and Regulation

The School provides a comprehensive account of the most up to date developments in economic theory, empirical analysis, legislation and policy in the areas of Competition and Regulation. Participants of the Summer School join a vibrant community of motivated students from all over the world and a distinguished international faculty.

Summer School Modules

Teaching is organised in 8 self-contained Modules and 3 Advanced Short Courses covering, in an intensive program of 100 hours over two weeks, all aspects of Competition Policy and Network Industry Regulation as well as related theoretical and quantitative tools and techniques.
